MAY LOSE ARM AS RESULT OF BLOW

General John Wheeley, (?) of Richmond, Cut His Finger on Teeth of Negro Assailant.

isen, John Wheeley, of Ruchmond, Va., is at the Baitimore University Hospital suffering from the effects of an encounter with a negro who attempted to assault him on Christmas night. It appears that General Wheeley, who was visiting some griends in this city, is 64 years of age, but the weight of his years did not prevent him swinging a swift uppercut with the left to the jaw of his assailant as soon as the motive of the man became cyident.

The wound became infected, blood polsoning set in and he was operated on on New Year's Eve with the hope of saving the arm. It is thought by the attending surgeons that their efforts may be successful in this respect.

RAILROADS AND RAILROAD MEN

The establishment of a freight and passenger agency in this city by the Reck Island-Frisco system of rallways will. In the opinion of local railway traffle men, have the effect of forcing the other great through railway systems to establish similar agencies here to meet the competition for through traffic originating in this city. The agency of the Rock Island-Frisco here is the only one between Philadelphia and Atlanta, and Richmond was chosen instead of Washington as the location of the agency because of the fact that Richmond's freight business is larger. Naturally, as a railway traffic man expressed it yesterday, the fact that the one system has a man on the ground with whom we will all soon know well, will have the effect of causing us to throw all the business we can in his way, instead of giving it to some road not represented here. This fact is realized by railway men, and it will not be long before the other great railway systems open traffic agencies here. When others follow the Rock island-'Frisco lead it will not be long before the town will be full of brokerage offices—merchandles brokers—and these will compete for local business. Look at Atlanta, said he. All those hig sky-scrapers there are filled with brokerage offices, and these in turn have followed the railroads thither.

The growth of Florida tourist travel from this State in recent years has been steady, said Mr. C. W. Campbell, representing the Atlantic Coast Line, yeasterday, Every year more Virginia people spend a portion of the winter in the far south, and still the traffic grows. Travel is already very heavy on our Florida trains. Our New York and Florida special will be inaugurated for the season, beginning January 11th, This elegant train consists of dining, observation, Pullman, spartment and library cars, all of the very handsomest and most luxurious pattern. Each individual berth is electrically lighted. Our Florida and West Indian Limited, now in operation, and which is run all the year, consists of dining car, Pullman sleeper and first-class throughfare car. # A MEMORIAL TO MARTYR

A Great Building to be Erected in the Far-Off Land of China.

Missionaries of All Denominations Unite and Send Out Appeals for Assistance.

W: Fin the next few years there win be created in China by the missionaries of all denominations laboring there a great building that will be for all time to come a memorial to the devoted mombers of the brotherhood who have met a martyr's death in this far-away heathen

There is decided interest here and throughout the Christian world in the proposition, which has just been definitely made. The foreign boards, one of which is located in this city, are interested, but not in the sense that they are thembut not in the sense that they are then selves conducting the work. They give their best will to it, but the missionaries themselves are the prime movers. These missionaries are of all denominations in all parts of the Celestial Empire. A number of them are Virginia and other Eaptists, who are working under the Fereign Mission Board, which has its headquarters in Richmond.

INTERESTING MOVEMENT. The movement has just been thoroughly nunched. Circulars and appeals have beer received by prominent religious workers here calling attention to it and asking for help.

There are now sixty missionary societies in China, and they join in an appeal to Christians of all lands to aid them in the erection in Shanghal of a large "Exeter Hall" and Missionary Union Headquarters, as a center of Christian activities for the benefit of the whole of China. The building is to be known as the Martyr's Memorial. An effort will be made to complete it by 1907, the anni-Affrary of the landing of Robert Morrisersary of the landing of Robert Morrison, the first missionary to China. The minimum sum to be secured for the purpose is $250,000. The building will be at expression of gratitude to God for the courage and faith of the missionaries and the Chinese Christians who have suffered the martyr's death, and as an expression of the underlying unity of the Christians who the Christians who have suffered the martyr's death, and as an expression of the underlying unity of the Christians who this in the work.

The Seaboard Air Line Railway has inaugurated an innovation on their trains between Hamlei, N. C., and Washington, D. C., which will add very much to the comfort of travel. Letters received by the Foreign Board from Japan do not deal with the present disturbed political conditions there. They were mostly written before the war question reached its recent acute stage. The Rev. C. J. F. Anderson and wife, who have been working in Italy several years, have retired from the work and have returned to this country.

Miss Lottle Moon, who has been in this country for some time, and who paid a visit to Richmond, will return to China in the early part of 1994.

Dr. R. T. Bryan is busy working in the different States for the "Yates College" in Shanghai, China. He is said to be meeting with good success.

AT THE ACADEMY.

"Alphonse and Gaston," an up-to-date musical farce comedy, is the title of the attraction at the Academy to-night. Founded on the cartoons picturing the volatile and ultra-polite Frenchmen, the comedy has been entirely reconstructed and rewritten for this senson's production. Forty persons are in the cast, and there are twenty-two speaking parts. Heading the list of comedians are Will and Andrew Powers, who will enact the title roles. In the former version "Alphonse and Gaston" were made two Frenchmen, the inventors of a flying machine, and their adventures were a series of mishaps in connection with the promotion of their project. This year's version leaves the characters as a disguise for two enterprising young Americans. This gives room for more compileations, which have their culmination when "Alphonse and Gaston" meet their doubles. The Powers brothers have Mullen and Cates to Ask Discharge, Claiming Insolvency.
W. H. Mullen and Sidney Cates yesterday filed notice with Commonwealth's Attorney D. C. Richardson that they will within five days apply to the Hustings Court for their release from fall on the ground of their insolvency. Mullen and Cates were sent to Jail on Monday in default of payment of $259 assessed against each as fines for criminal libet. The law gives the Commonwealth's Attorney five days in which to investigate the question of solvency or insolvency, and if the latter is established his Honer may release the optioners. versatility, but this is really the best chance they have ever had for the dis-play of its full scope.

La Shelle's Rise.

The Christmas music of Monumental Church will be repeated Sunday morning at 1.0 clock and afternoon at 1 o'clock. At the afternoon service some beautiful organ music will be rendered from Wagner's "Pfarsifal," including some of the "Good Friday" music, and the "March to the Holy Grail." This will be rendered for the urst time 14 Richmond and has been especially arranged for the organ. Kirke La Shelle, the owner of "The Barl of Pawtucket," which is to be seen at the Academy Friday and Saturday, with matinee Saturday, has the remark-with matinee Saturday, has the remarkable record of having never produced a failure; consequently his success as a manager has overshadowed his work as a playwright, but he has had much success, too, in the latter rôle.

"The Wizard of the Nile" was their first piece, and it was played two years. "The Idol's Eye," "The Ameer" and "Miss Simplicity" have each in turn been played by Mr. Daniels for two years. Mr. La Shelle was the author of the book of "The Ameer," and he also wrote "Princess Chic," which has also been running now three years. His latest work is a dramatization of Owen Wister's novel, "The Virginian."

Hearts Adrift" To-night,

Hearts Adrift" To-night.

Spencer and Aborn, is schoduled for local presentation shortly. The great novelty of the play is the introduction of a great fir ship at the end of the third act; an air ship which is practical. This mechanism is made the center of what is described as an intensely startling situation. The good element of the play's personner, represented in four characters, forced to sudden flight from a desperate stuation, hurry to the anchored air ship, scramble up its rope ladder to a passenger car suspended from its gas reservoir, lift the anchor, and at once shoot up into space. When high up among the cluds (the effect of height is said to be realistically accomplished), one of the cyll fock of the drama is found to be cill the first of the ladder with malice in his face and a disposition to wreck the air ship and destroy all it holds among his purposes. With the discovery, a combat in mid-air ensues, ending with the severance of that part of the ladder holding the villain, who at once drops earthward. The seems is said to be one of the most startling ever introduced into the drama. The company presenting "Hearts Adrift" is reported to be one of unusual excellence, and is beaded by 15. L. Snader, who plays the heart of the hero. Others in the supporting company include Hornee Mitchell, Frederick Backus, Philip McCarthy, Augustin Grassimere, Fannie Midgley, Bert Welker Mabel Prorence, Eugene Bessever, Virginia, Westbrook and Stella Barnes. The entire production is reported to be a most elaborate one. There are four acts, divided into seven scenes. "Hearts Adrift" comes to the Bijou Thearter of three days, beginning with a matinee this afternoon.

New Cars Being Gotten Ready. Changes in Men.

Changes in Men.

The new cars of the Passenger and Power Company for use on the Main Street line are being made ready for service as rapidly as practicable, to insure good workmanship in the painting and decoration. The cars are described by the men on the line as "beauties," and are said to insure the acme of comfort in street rallway travel. Only eight have yet arrived, but the others will come in a week or two in installments. The heating apparatus in the cars makes them especially desirable for service in winter, for in weather as cold as this the heaters on the cars now operated are inadequate to insure perfect comfort.

Changes are constantly going on in the force of motormen and conductors, some fifteen or eighteen new ones havsome litteen or eighteen new ones hav-ing been taken on yesterday as the un-satisfactory men are dispensed with. There are many applications for post-tions, even in this bitter temperature, this indicating that there are many men willing to endure even the hardships of life on the car platform with long hours for the remuneration offered. for the remuneration offered.

The bill was practically deleated by the Senate recently, and was recommitted in order that certain statutes relating to hisurance might be extracted from the bill and acted on. The bill liself, as reported, channot be again acted on at this session of the General Assembly, the Senate having already required to pass the bill. As it now stands the bill is construed by the Senate to confer the power of appointment of the commissioner proposed to be created upon the Corporation Commission. It is unlikely that any actions will be had on the bill at this session.
